WEDNESDAY.. NOVEMBER 25, 1891.

The Speakership. The withdrawal of Mr. Braum in favor of Mr. Mills adds very materially to the strength of the Texan, as all of the Indiana delegation will follow Mr. BYNUM's lead.

This movement on their part is not only intended to elect Mr. Mills as Speaker but, according to some newspaper accounts, to give the office of Clerk of the House to Mr. Dalton. Mr. Dalton, who is an Indi-anian also, was postmaster of the House when the Democrats were last in power there, and is a shrewd and energetic worker; yet, it is safe to predict that he will not secure the place he seeks without a big fight. The opposition to him will be what the correspondents describe as "bit-

By many persons it is thought that if the speakership comes to the South all of the other positions should be apportioned among the New England, Middle State, and western Democrats; but even if a distribu-tion is made which will recognize each section the South may come in for the undistributed share, as the House not only elects Speaker, but Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms, Doorkeeper, and Postmaster. It is among the possibilities that a Virginian may get the postmastership. There is more or less talk at Washington and in political circles throughout the country of a CLEVELAND-MILLS combination, but the ex-President has emphatically said that he is no party to such a movement. Mr. CLEVELAND's word can be relied upon. No one has ever questioned his frankness or honesty, but it is a fact, no doubt, that some of his friends have urged Mr. MILLS's claims on the ground that he is more prominently identified with tariff reform than any other man, Mr. CLEVELAND excepted.

Many of the newspapers that are most ardent in the advocacy of Mr. CLEVELAND'S claims to the presidential mination are also supporters of Mr. MILLS. But Mr. CRISP either has many CLEVELAND men on his list of supporters or CLEVELAND has more opponents among congressmen than is generally supposed. The transfer of the Indiana delegation from BYNUM to MILLS, and the advancement of Dalton's claims for the postmastership has created no little excitement at Washington, and it is said that a good many "slates" may be broken. A great howl is also being raised against Tammany, which is said to be seeking to elect CRISP over MILLS, and some as politicians declare that they see in this design a combination between HILL and It is, we think, the ablest of the letters Camp to have the next delegation from he has written this year upon the subject Georgia to the National Democratic Con- he treats so ably in this one. But we do not anthe imagination as the CLEVELAND-MILLS ticipate, or rather we do not expect, such combination-Tammany cannot have been legislation. The Democratic party in halt converted from Hill to Cleveland, as we the States of the Union has pledged itself have lately seen proclaimed in some of the to some sort of scheme for increasing more enthusiastic of the CLEVELAND PR-The speakership contest in itself is inte-

He is nearly as prominent in the letter. country's eye as is the President; but in addition to these elements of interest which the speakership contest possesses, there is a presidential fringe to the fight, view it how you may. We know that the lines are not strictly drawn; it would be absurd to think so, it would be eriminal to say so; still the Hrat people will not cheer themselves hoarse if Mills is nominated and the Tammany sachems will not return to New York triumphant if Carse fails. It, however, is in the power of the Democrats to appease them greatly by giving to their man TURNER-" TURNER, the Iceman, who beat Asron for Congress-the office of doorkeeper, which he assiduously seeks, and to aid whom, they say, they sent their committee to Washington. Ex-Speaker REED is reported to have given speech to some very sarcastic ideas about the Mikks-Carse contest, and he seems to be of the opinion that the Democrats will be sure to knock their " fat into the fire." With him the wish is father to the thought. He will very probably be disappointed. Ours is a masterless party. No bossism is tolerated, and hence outsiders hearing Democratic voices raised to a high pitch are apt to imagine that we have gotten into a dreadful quarrel, when it is really no worse a contention than high-spirited brothers often have when seated around the family board. We like sometimes to "put in" our tongue, but we try never to utter any words that the enemy can seize upon to use to our Democratic family's disadvantage. So, we watch and discuss this contest. In any event-whether the successful man prove to be Chisp, Mills, ors "dark horse"-we know that the nominee will be a loyal Democrat, and to him we shall give a loyal support.

lowa and Massachusetts.

Colonel Jonn Brill Bigger's Iowa friend states in the letter from which we gave an extract on Sunday last a fact which ought to be known to be such by every man acquainted with the history of Iowa when he writes him that on national issues Iowa is reliably Republican. Governor Borns owed his success on the 3d instant entirely to his fierce and unrelenting war upon the Republicans as a party of prohibitionists. To pretend to believe that he owed it to the tariff question is to assume that the people of Iowa had not sense enough to know why they supported him. To set him up as a candidate for President of the United States is as if in 1879 the Republicans of the United States had set up Manone as a Republican candidate for President on the ground that he was a proteconist. Borns was just as certainly elected Governor of Iowa as an anti-prohibitionist as CAMERON was elected Governor of Virginia on the debt question. In fact, it is preposterous proposition to say that Boxes has any chance whatever of receiving the Democratic nomination for ident or Vice-President of the United tion to run Governor Russiant, is not so unreasonable as the proposition to run Governor Rorss. Massachusetts is a reliable and will be as certain to vote the Republi can ticket next year as Virginia will be to vote the Democratic ticket. We said not long ago that Massachusetts had not voted for a Democratic candidate for President for fifty years. We might have said that she has never done so.

Oh, no. The Democratic nomines for President will be elected by Democrats, not by Republicans-by Democratic States, not by Republican States-by the solid South's 159 electoral votes added to 36 from New York, 10 from New Jersey, 15 from Indiana, and 3 or more from Michigan.

The British Bondholders Object-Reliable information has come from London that the English holders of our bonds are very much disappointed at the plan of settlement agreed upon.

Many of them openly declare that they will not accept it, but it seems to us that wiser counsel ought to and will prevail.

It is both their interest and their duty to stand by Mr. Orcorr and his associates After the British bondholders have received Mr. OLCOTT's letter sent them by mail they will understand far easier than any brief cablegram could convey the ins 25 telligence that the plan of adjustment is a Reading notices in reading-matter type, five lines or less, $1; in nonparelilesded, 75a her best to estisfy her creditors, and that the future offers no promise of any better sheater. omposition of the matters and moneys in dispute.

It is not conceivable that the bondolders will take any decisive action until Mr. OLCOTT has been fully heard. The Advisory Committee at New York concur with him and will report in favor of confirming the agreement, and they can reinforce their judgment by the opinion of the best friends that the creditors have in the United States that now is the time to settle: that the obligations Virginia proposes to assume are as great as she can bear, and that the settlement bonds will rise rapidly in value if there is no delay in ratifying the plan.

Any useless hesitation or foolish discus-sion will materially injure the bright pronise we have of drawing this long and heated contention to a happy conclusion. Our London friends will make a grave nistake if they act before they have heard from Mr. OLCOTT and the Advisory Com-

The Great Northwest Minneapolis is to be the seat of the next Republican National Convention. Minnesota stands between the West and the Northwest, or, rather, between what used to be the Northwest and what we are all now disposed to regard as the real Northwest. It has not been many years since Hole-inthe-Day was an important character in Minnesota. The selection of Minneapolis had in it somewhat of sentiment. It also reminds the world of the fact that the Northwest and West have manifested an inclination to lean over to the Democratic side in national politics. It is, too, a prophesy that the next Republican National Convention will be held in a Rocky-Mountain State or a Pacific State.

How it does enlighten a Bostonian, a New Yorker, or a Philadelphian to spend a week in Chicago, St. Louis, or Minneapolis, or even in Cincinnati. It does a resident in any one of those eastern cities "a power of good" to spend a few days among men who refuse to talk about those places, and feel a supreme contempt for the men of narrow horizons who dwell on the shores of the Atlantic or in some other locality where the people whose home is in the setting sun are treated as strangers.

We are glad that Minneapolis has been thus honored by the Republicans. That city, with the aid of St. Paul, practically a part of it, will have no difficulty in accommodating the convention.

Judge Hughes's Letter.

It is well to know when you have lost the battle. But it is not wise to surrender before you have ascertained that fact. Undoubtedly, the silverites came out of the recent elections with a black eye. And we are inclined to the belief that it was only a black eye. However that may be, Judge Hughes's letter in yesterday's Dis-PATCH is none the less worthy of perusal. the circulating medium, and the red-hot advocates of bimetallism will make them-

A Newly-Married Man Disappears Joseph Vollath, of the firm of Vollath & Joseph Vollath, of the firm of Vollath & Wadlinger, art and machine embroideries, of Philadelphia, is missing, and his partner and bride of two weeks standing are anxiously looking for him. Vollath is said to be a native of Virginis, who has bad large experience in Austria in the embroidery business, and represented himself as heir to a large estate in France. A short time ago he engaged in business with Mr. Wadlinger, who furnished the capital of the firm. On November 5th Vollath was married to Eigaboth A. Miller. On the day after their return from the wedding trip he disappeared.

A THANKSGIVING DRIVE. A THANESGIVING DRIVE.

As the turkey has the right of way at this season of the year we've angaged him as a driver. In the meantime let us drop you a hint: You can't send anything home that will receive a more royal welcome than our CHAMBER SUITS. No holiday gift could be more highly appreciated. It is worthy of the giver every time and the satisfaction it gives makes its cost insignificant by comparison. Are you incressed in knowing what is positively the screwdest transaction in furniture ever entered into by a purchaser? You won't be in the dark on that subject if you come and look at our stock.
